FIFTEEN CENTS

Crashes into pal's car, still critical after week

A Twin Lakes man remained in critical condition at press time, almost a week after his motorcycle struck the rear end of a car driven by a friend.

Fred Chase, Twin Lakes, celebrated his 22nd birthday in the critical care unit of Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, where he was taken by the Antioch Rescue Squad at approximately 11:30 p.m., on Monday, June 13.

Chase's cycle hit the rear end of a car driven by Glenn Learmont, 22, Antioch, at the intersection of North Ave. and Warner Shore Rd., near Antioch.

Learmont told Lake County deputies that he had not seen Chase's cycle approach his car as he slowed down and put his left-hand turn signals on in preparation for turning into Warner Subdivision.

Learmont said that, as he went into a turn, he heard a crash and pulled his car so that his headlights shone on a ditch where he found Chase lying.

A witness and another friend, Lonnie Lubkeman, 21, Antioch, was driving west on North Ave. behind Chase and said that he saw the turn-signals light up on Learmont's car and Chase crash into it.

Lubkeman told the deputies that the three of them had been working on a car and were heading for another friend's house in the subdivision.

He also told deputies that they had had three beers while working on the car.

Chase's cycle traveled 51 feet after the impact, sliding into a ditch and hitting a three-foot-high post.

His cycle flipped and its seat was found 67 feet away and Chase's helmet was torn from his head and thrown 73 feet away from the spot in which he was found.

No citations were issued at the scene of the accident.

Micro-computers raise supply budget $46,000

by GLORIA DAVIS

At the last regular meeting of the board of education of Antioch High School, Board Member Glen Moore, who is on the budget committee, presented the supply and equipment requests for the 1983-84 school year.

The most significant increase over the last school year was that of $46,000 to be spent on micro-computers.

The fact that the high school will be taking on special education classes next year also added to those requests.

According to Ken Wierschem, school business manager, without these two, the increase in those requests would be approximately a seven percent one, the average amount of increase per year.

The board also approved the employment of Suzanne Towns as a part-time art teacher, to replace the retired Jane Craner during the coming school year.

It looks like salaries at the high school will be slightly on the rise for the next term with the board approving a 9.2 percent raise for non-certified staff members and 8.2 percent raise for the administrative staff.

After four meetings with representatives of the teachers, the board is slated for another one on Tuesday, June 21, but Wierschem said that he doubted any agreement would be reached by then.

Private music lessons will be available through the school's fine arts department in 1983-84. Instruction will be provided by the Jack Benny Center.

In other business, the board commended the Lindenhurst Soccer League for doing an excellent job picking up rocks at the new athletic fields at the intersection of Deep Lake and Grass Lake Rds.

Director of Curriculum Gary Allen told the board that five students from the high school will attend the Illinois-Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse this summer. That list includes Blythe Holmes, Carolyn Richter, for the Antioch Woman's Club, and Kim Gardner, Carol Haun and Kim Stender, who'll be sponsored by Antioch Township.

Board forsees new budget to hold at current levels

The Antioch Village Board is expected to give final approval to the 1983-84 village budget at its regular meeting on Monday, June 20, although the village's fiscal year began May 1.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said that the budget totals would probably stay about the same as last year or may run a little under those figures.

The ongoing Oakwood Knolls storm sewer project was last year's largest single expenditure, that of $88,739. This project, paid for by Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), will continue this year with $62,000 more in CDBG monies expected to pay for it.

The 32 full time village workers will be getting a six percent salary raise according to the new budget and the biggest raise in revenues will hopefully come from the addition of the two new supermarkets in town, Best Value Foods and Jewel-Osco.

With the village having lost $50,000 in revenues last year when the A&P closed and the Jewel burned, the board has kept a conservative figure of $30,000 in sales tax in the revenue section of the budget for additional money from the new stores.

The 1982-83 expenditures were approximately $1,748,320.

Slate trucks to golf carts Rotary benefit race participant list grows

by GLORIA DAVIS

The gauntlet tossed to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller and Lt. Tom Fisher by Bill Brook and Bob Diemer a few months ago to a race at the Wilmot Speedway in Wilmot, has not only been picked up but the race plans grow more interesting by the day.

Members of the Antioch Rotary Club are already busy selling tickets (5,000 is their goal) to the big event scheduled for 7:30 p.m., on Friday, July 22, with proceeds slated for the club's scholarship fund.

Though reports have it that Fisher will be out of town that weekend, Miller is still on the driving list along with Verh Thelen and his gravel truck, Ken Clark and his blazer and sundry other Rotarians in various vehicles, including golf carts.

Reports also have Jim Hamlin's elderly mother challenging the oldest Rotarian, a challenge some Rotarians claim should be picked up by Brook or Ted Larson.

The Scholarship Challenge Race has a rain date of Sunday, July 24.

Teens quiet in Channel Lake Damage less, business too

by GLORIA DAVIS

A check with Vi Johantgen, owner of Vi's Yellow Bird on Rte. 173, concerning the reported vandalism to her establishment and a neighboring house, showed everything on the quiet side since the article on the teenage vandalism ran in the News.

Although the windows in another area house were broken, Vi said, "There haven't been any kids around this week."

She added that she and Maureen Polenik have been doing some patrolling. Johantgen likes the quiet but now it seems that it has been too quiet.

"Now I have no customers, they're afraid to come here," she said.

Polenik is the resident that also complained about vandalism to her property.

An area resident came to the News after reading the article and brought his teenage daughter along.

"I know that one of the teenage girls referred to and blamed for the vandalism by

Mrs. Polenik is my daughter because she and her friend are the only two girls that age that hang around with the group often found at the bridge on Lotus St.

He said that, though his daughter did not get along with the Polenik children, either he or his wife knew where she was at all times and he was sure she was not involved in any of the vandalism.

In answer to Polenik's claim that the parents of the alleged vandals had been contacted with negative results, he said that no one had ever talked to he or his wife on the subject.

He added that the tavern's customers often illegally parked on both sides of Lotus St. when the parking lot of the Yellow Bird was full, mostly on weekends, claiming that this was a traffic hazard.

He said that Vi was pleasant and asked the customers to move their cars when com-

CHOOSING A TOOTHBRUSH

QUESTION: Toothbrushes come hard, medium and soft. I never know which is best. Help!

ANSWER: Modern dentists are virtually unanimous in recommending the soft toothbrush with end-rounded and polished bristles, and prefer nylon bristles set in a straight line. The exact size and shape of the brush should fit your mouth and make it easy to reach the surface of every tooth. Medium and hard-bristle brushes are far more likely to irritate gums, damage tissue and cause gum recession. If you have a small mouth, choose a brush with fewer cross rows of bristles; a large mouth of course, needs a larger brush.

Shamrocks to sponsor Irish-American Festival

The Shamrock Club of Twin Lakes area invites everyone to attend its Irish-American Festival, on Sunday, June 26, at the Wonder Bar in Twin Lakes from 1 to 5 p.m.

Highlighting this event will be the music of the famous Blarney. Well-known in the Illinois-Wisconsin area, Blarney offers an extensive repertoire that includes rousing sea chanties, devilish drinking songs and a nostalgic variety of soft Irish ballads.

The group has made many television appearances. They travel throughout the midwest to appear wherever Irishmen gather.

Blarney has performed at the governor's mansion in Madison, and they have several record albums to their credit.

The music of Blarney creates a natural invitation towards audience participation, and their concerts invariably find people singing and dancing in the aisles.

The Shamrock Club of Twin Lakes area is hosting this event in conjunction with the celebration of their first anniversary. Tickets are priced at $4 and will be available at the door.

In addition to the music of Blarney, those attending the festival will have the opportunity to shop from an Irish import booth and an Irish craft booth.

Food and refreshments will be available on the premises. Tables may be reserved for large parties. For further information call Alice Murphy at (414) 877-2588.

The Shamrock Club is a non-profit making, non-political organization established to promote Irish heritage.

Membership includes Irish-Americans from a six county area in Illinois and Wisconsin.

The regular general membership meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 28, at Saint John's Community Center in Twin Lakes at 7:30 p.m.

For membership information contact Larry Coffey at (414) 877-2696.

According to Johantgen this had not happened inside of the last three years.

Pat Chapman dropped us a note telling us that she really enjoyed the interview Lakeland did with James Mitchell and Candi Early of "All My Children."

Pat is especially fond of that soap opera because Kay Campbell, who plays Kate Martin, also played Pat's daughter's mother in three commercial movies shot in Chicago in 1945.

Antioch's own Esther Jacobsen has written a song, "September Gypsy" which has been recorded by Kay Weaver for Columbine Records and just released in an album called "The Now Sounds Of Today."

Congratulations to Dennis Groth, son of Dan and Kathy Groth of Felter's Subdivision, who just received his degree in computer science from Loyola University.

And Henry Schmidt, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, and a junior at Monmouth College, Monmouth, majoring in history and government, is on the dean's list there.

Little sister Anne, a sophomore majoring in elementary education at the same college, was chosen orientation leader because of her leadership qualities.

Two more Antioch residents, that have earned their sheepskins, are Sheri Frydrychowicz (nursing) and Gloria Keibler (visual communication) who finished their four years at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

I see one of Antioch's favorite artists, Mike (Irene) Gross, won a red ribbon at the Regional Town and Country Art Show held on June 11 at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, Lake County Extension Auditorium.

For anyone who loves the "Glen Miller" sound as much as Annie Mae does, the Glen Miller Orchestra, under the direction of Larry O'Brien, will appear at 9:15 p.m., on July 7, in an open air concert in the north parking lot of Hawthorn Center.

Don't forget the Richmond Strawberry Festival, sponsored by the Richmond Pioneer Senior Citizens Club, slated for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on June 25, next to the public parking lot, next to the Masonic Hall.

When I think about it

Alcohol oiled wheels make death squeals

by GLORIA DAVIS

I just received more literature from the area tavern league which included copies of two editorials, both calling the push to raise Wisconsin's drinking age to 21, "a misguided, symbolic move which will do little if anything to eliminate the state's drinking-driving problem."

Both editorials rightfully call for stricter DUI laws and stronger enforcement of such at all ages.

Lord knows no one is saying that a drunken adult behind the wheel is any better than a kid in the same condition.

Accident reports simply show more kids in that shape so involved.

The one written by Michael Birkley, executive director of the Tavern League of Wisconsin, states that the bars, the bar owners and their employees "do not cause the problems because they all adhere to a formal code of ethics which includes "not encouraging excessive drinking, arranging transportation for those who have, not knowingly serving minors, sticking to alcoholic beverage serving laws, all adding up to the offering of a controlled caring and supervised atmosphere to drink in that is the best protection against alcohol abuse."

Again we hear the claim that those under 21 affected by this raise are adults who vote, work etc., added to the claim that they will "still get their hands on alcohol whether or not the law allows it."

This editorial calls such a raise a disservice to the responsible 20-year-old.

One thing the editorials do not mention is that a drinker does not have to be a roudy, noisy, falling down drunk to be considered legally intoxicated. Even though a bartender might be "caring," is he able to keep count and then judge, based on height and weight, if his customers should have another drink?

In referring to the fact that the highways are full of drinking and driving adults over 21, both editorials again skip over the fact that the main reason for the crys for the drinking age raise is that the states of Wisconsin and Illinois have different ages, causing teens from deep in Illinois to drive all the way to another state to do their drinking legally.

Common sense tells one that the further one drives when intoxicated the greater the chance of an accident.

How many adults over 21 make a continual week-end practice of driving 100 miles to do their drinking?

Of course much appreciation is due the conscientious bartender but when there are hundreds of young people imbibing at a bar at one time, it is almost impossible to keep tabs on most of them.

One would be hard put to find many local law enforcement officers or rescue squad members that would agree with either journalistic effort.

One exception, the Sheriff of Kenosha County Dan Piencowski, who was quoted as saying, "I can live with an 18-year-old drinking age," while campaigning, has changed his tune to going along with the drinking age raise, since he has been pounding the sheriff's beat.

Now true this just may be because he is listening to the people's outcry, not because he has changed his mind.

Many people find it hard to believe a tavern owner can completely discount the loss the raise would mean to his pocketbook when he states that drinking teens are not the biggest part of the problem.

"They (tavern owners) do not deal with them on the highways like we do," said one local policeman.

"They don't pull over the vans full of drunken teens heading back to Downers Grove," he stated, adding, "they'd change their tune if they were there when their own kid was picked up off of the highway."

"Sure kids have always gotten alcohol and will continue to do so if it is again made illegal, but since there was less highway mayhem when this was the case, would not returning just to that situation be an improvement?"

The statement that is made in one editorial that the drinking-age raise will have no effect on those under 18, neglects to mention the fact that it is most probable that kids this age will find procuring booze more difficult since few 15 and 16-year-olds have 21-year-old friends to get it for them.

This would not be the first time some have been denied because of the sins of many, but look at it this way, maybe most of these who will "suffer" so unjustly, will live to be a legal 21 and hopefully they will have gained a little more respect for human life, their own in particular, by that time.

Paul Neilsen, Ward Wilton and Kenneth Hills were awarded the degree of state farmer at the fifth annual convention of the Illinois Assn. of Future Farmers of America, held at the University of Illinois.

The lotus flower beds were larger than ever because of the heavy rainfall already this season.

There were 180 divorces and 4,815 marriages recorded for that year in Lake County.

An article in the News claimed that, in the middle of the 19th century, the small settlement that was deciding on a name had many settlers that belonged to a religious sect known as the Disciples or Christians. They voted down the name of Jericho as being too serious and chose Antioch because it was the first place in ancient times where the name christians was used for Christ's disciples.

At the Williams Tavern beer was 10 cents per stein along with a free lunch.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: June 25, 1953

A petition circulated in Antioch was in opposition to the parking being done on the lawn of the Lake County Court House in Waukegan.

A new GMC pick-up truck was selling for $1,597.

Draft eligible males were told that they could start working on their eight years of military service as soon as their 17th birthday by joining a military reserve unit.

TEN YEARS AGO: June 20, 1973

Antioch Police Officer Harold Mason received the backing of the village board in a civil suit where he, along with two Fox Lake officers and a Lake County deputy were charged with violating the civil rights of a Ronald Hooper.

Mason was cleared of any wrong doing in connection with the alleged beating of Hooper by the officers but the board did agree to pay $2,250 along with the same to be paid by the other three defendants.

In June of 1973 the population of Antioch was estimated at 3,635.

Chamber seminar June 28

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon on Tuesday, June 28, at The Tower Room in Antioch.

Fred K. Konrad, division manager-tariffs and costs at Illinois Bell, will speak to the group about deregulation of the telecommunications industry and divestiture of Illinois Bell in 1984.

His talk, "Looking Ahead With Illinois Bell" will cover changes already here and more that will be coming in the months ahead as that company moves into a new era.

Konrad plans to discuss the company's new structure and how its customers and the community will be affected. He will touch on customer's options, billing, costs and economic impacts.

Konrad began his career with Illinois Bell in 1964 and has held various engineering assignments before becoming district plant manager in 1978. Later he moved into tariffs and costs activity, being named to his present position in 1978.

Konrad is a member of the board of directors of HOPE/FAIR Housing Center. He received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Illinois and has done graduate studies at the Kansas Graduate School and Illinois Inst. of Technology.

For information, contact: Dixie Sparks, Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, (312) 395-2233.

RTA receives early receipts

Gov. James R. Thompson authorized the release of a $22.2 million advance payment June 15 to the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA).

The payment is based on an estimate of sales tax receipts the RTA normally would have received in July.

The receipts, collected in the six-county metropolitan area; represent sales tax collections due the RTA on an accelerated schedule approved by the Governor in May 1981 to keep mass transit operating in the Chicago area.

In addition to the $22.2 million advance payment, a check for $1,792,875.02 has been forwarded to the transit authority as the difference between last month's advance payment and the actual amount due it for June.

The RTA receives an advance payment based on estimates of the amount due it for the next month. Then, when the regular payment time comes, it receives a second check for the difference between the amount already advanced it and the actual amount due.

IRS offering Tele-Tax

J.R. Starkey, Internal Revenue Service district director for northern Illinois, reminds area residents with tax questions that they can still call Tele-Tax, the new 24-hour, seven-day-a-week recorded tax information service provided by the Internal Revenue Service.

Tele-Tax is available to taxpayers with pushbutton telephones and has 141 information tapes on tax subjects, such as filing requirements, itemized deductions, tax deductions, tax credits, dependents, and adjustments to income, according to Starkey.

To use Tele-Tax, northern Illinois taxpayers can call either Chicago, (312) 886-9614 or Rockford, (815) 987-4280. By punching in the appropriate tape numbers, the taxpayer hears the tax information message he or she wants. Taxpayers without access to the tape topics and their corresponding tape numbers can hear a list of the tapes by following the recorded instructions. The complete list of tapes is also available in Publication 910, "Taxpayer's Guide to IRS

Information and Assistance."

Publication 910 is available by calling the IRS at (312) 435-1040 in Chicago, or 1-(800) 424-1040 elsewhere in Illinois between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Tele-Tax began operation January 3, and continues on a year-round basis. If a taxpayer calls from outside the local dialing area of any Tele-Tax number there will be a long-distance charge.

Sheriff to join anti-drug force

Recent internal reports prepared by the Northshore Metropolitan Enforcement Group (MEG) indicate that LSD and cocaine have become major drug enforcement issues in southern Lake County.

The reports span a seven month period, ending on May 30, and reflect that 33 persons were arrested by MEG during that period for distribution of illegal drugs.

These suspects were charged with 60 violations. Approximately 79 percent of the arrests involved illegal sales of cocaine or LSD to undercover MEG agents.

The reports indicate that $44,980 was spent for undercover cocaine and LSD purchases during the same seven month period. The majority of these funds were subsequently recovered by MEG from various drug dealers.

The reports contain sensitive information relating to current investigations and will not be released to the public. However, the reports indicate a concentration of effort directed at major drug traffickers.

Approximately 35 percent of the charges developed within Lake County by MEG during the seven month period, involved Class X or Class 1 drug violation. "Class X" is the most severe violation under Illinois law and carries a mandatory six year prison sentence.

The Northshore MEG was formed in 1979 to enhance drug enforcement efforts between local communities. Present participants include Lake Forest, Deerfield, Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, and the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement.

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. is expected to formally participate in the near future.

He also announced that sufficient members have signed up for the Kentucky trip and it is scheduled for August 2-5. The Senior Center of Bristol Oaks is conducting an art class and anyone interested can contact Peterson. Classes are held on Friday.

AARP collects money for Doughnut Day

Antioch Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) Community Service Committee Chairman John Bednarkiewicz and Acting Chairman Vicky Bock, participated in the Salvation Army Doughnut Tag Day, on June 3, in Antioch.

Thirty volunteer members were assigned to specific areas in Antioch, in order to cover all local business establishments.

Despite inclement weather, where rain, drizzle and cold winds were blowing, the majority of volunteers were faced with this kind of exposure, because of a commitment they have promised to fulfill.

Their total donations collected on this day, reached a sum of $988.99, which was turned over to the Salvation Army Headquarters, for distribution among the needy.

These senior volunteers, both men and women, working under such adverse conditions inspired Mrs. Vicky Bock, acting chairman, so that she presented each of the volunteers with a small token of appreciation.

Essay winner places first

The last meeting of this Auxiliary year for Antioch Unit 748, American Legion Auxiliary, was highlighted by several reports and announcements.

President Betty Davis spoke of the previous day's second Division meeting in Rock Falls where the Unit's Americanism Essay contest winner in Class I, Pam Kasprovicz, received the Division award for first place. She was also recently notified that this essay, "How Great Americans Influence My Heritage" has taken first place in the Department of Illinois.

None of the active Antioch Unit members can recall an essay going any higher than a district winner before.

Americanism chairmen, Zella Larson, had previously spoken of many good essays she had received. With so much news coverage given to those few young people who go wrong, Antioch Unit is very happy to bring those in the Antioch area this information.

Tenth District President, Sandy Brady, of Gurnee Unit, and most of her District offers had also attended the division meeting and were guests at the Antioch meeting. In her remarks, she emphasized the great competition an essay is against by the time it reaches the state finals.

Balance budget or suffer consequences

Gov. James R. Thompson has warned the Illinois General Assembly that he will take stern measures if the legislature fails to send him a balanced budget by June 30.

The governor said that with only two weeks remaining in this session, the legislature had not responded to his call for a balanced budget to be achieved by raising new revenues or making appropriate cuts in state programs.

In a letter to legislative leaders, Thompson said if the legislature fails to act, he will take the following action:

"He will call the General Assembly into special session July 1 with specific instructions to present the governor with a balanced budget for Fiscal Year 1984.

"He will not take any action on any appropriation bill for any branch or agency of state government until the legislature acts.

"He will ask the legislature to pass the substantive law necessary to allow the no-tax-increase budget to be implemented, or to take down appropriations if they choose not to pass the substantive law changes, or pass new revenue measures so the budget can be balanced.

"After July 1, 1983, and until a balanced budget is adopted by the General Assembly, state government will be forced to operate without appropriation authority and I will not request that the comptroller continue processing payrolls and other vouchers in the absence of acceptable appropriation bills supported by credible revenue assumptions," the governor said.

However, the governor said that with two weeks remaining in this regular legislative session, there is still time to act.

"If action is completed by June 24, much of the pain can be eliminated.... Action on new revenues by June 24 would still give the state sufficient time to rescind these actions, and normal operations would still be possible," he said.

"If you decide to pass new revenues after June 24, normal operations will be disrupted, some of which are irretrievable."

Delays in legislative action will cause the following steps to be taken, among others:

*Employee transfers and equipment removal from all General Assistance offices will begin.

*General Assistance check vouchers, normally processed and issued during the first few days of July normally take eight processing days. If an appropriation is not approved by the General Assembly until July 1, then subsistence checks to 139,000 Illinois citizens will be terminated and 68 juveniles and work release inmates will be transferred to state prisons or early released during the last week in June.

*Employees terminated effective June 30 or July 1 pursuant to earlier notices cannot be recalled, and can only be rehired through appropriate eligibility lists.

"As a final note, it is important for you to know that even with a balanced budget for Fiscal Year 1984 (with or without new taxes), there will be serious cash flow problems for the first six to eight months of the new fiscal year."

The governor asked for the legislature to respond and respond quickly. "We have had a strong partnership in dealing with our state's fiscal condition. I am anxious that we continue to work together to enact a responsible financial plan for our state."

CLC introducing re-entry certificate

Word Processing. Memory Typewriters. Electronic Calculators. Machine Transcription. Things in the modern office have changed.

To accommodate the person looking to return to today's office, the College of Lake County is introducing this fall the Office Secretarial Re-entry Certificate.

The program includes an introduction to the modern office, shorthand refresher, typing refresher, word processing, machine transcription, statistical typing, electronic calculator, and general office procedures.

The program is offered mornings for 16 weeks, beginning August 22, and should enable the individual to successfully compete for secretarial positions currently available.

A detailed explanation of the program will be presented Thursday, July 14, at 2 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the CLC Grayslake campus. The information session will also present information about related college services such as job placement, career counseling and financial assistance, and will offer the opportunity to register for the program.

For more information on Office Secretarial Re-entry, call (312) 223-3615.

Skokie offers new 5 year certificate

A new low-minimum, high-yielding certificate of deposit with a five year guaranteed rate has been unveiled by Skokie Federal Savings.

Requiring just a $500 minimum balance, the five year certificate of deposit is currently paying savers a 10.25 percent fixed rate of return.

Although the entry rate fluctuates according to market conditions, the rate is constant for the term of the certificate. Interest is compounded daily.

"It's an ideal account for someone who thinks rates may drop and consequently want to lock in today's high rate," said Skokie Federal president John O'Connell.

"Its term is especially attractive for a college education fund or an IRA rollover account," he said.

O'Connell also noted that unlike many high-yielding, long term investments the five year certificate of deposit only requires a $500 minimum and consequently is appealing to the smaller depositor.

The account is insured to $100,000 by an agency of the federal government.

IRS announces extension

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) said that it is granting to all payors of interest and dividend income an automatic one-month extension of the requirement to withhold tax scheduled to begin July 1, 1983.

The automatic one-month extension is being granted to alleviate any undue hardship to payors.

The action is being taken in light of the June 16 Senate action to repeal the withholding provisions which were enacted by the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982.

The IRS noted that there has been no final action concerning repeal and the Congress continues to consider expanded backup withholding and other compliance measures.

Small businesses plan conference

Cong. John Porter (R-Winnetka) is sponsoring a conference Friday, June 24 to promote communication between the small business community in the 10th Congressional District and its representatives in Washington.

"A dialog between these two groups is essential to creating a federal policy that will help to restore economic health to the nation's small business community," Porter said.

Frank Swain, chief counsel for advocacy with the Small Business Administration in Washington, will be the keynote speaker.

The majority of the program will be devoted to giving business representatives an opportunity to discuss problems they might be having with the federal government, together with suggestions they might have for improvements.

Participants will be divided into small groups to discuss these points in detail and a group leader will later present the highlights of the discussion to Swain and Porter.

The Small Business Conference will be from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Lincolnshire Marriott.

A $6 registration fee, payable to Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort covers the cost of juice, rolls and coffee.

Churchill, Klemm sponsor new waterway agency

Voters in the Chain O' Lakes - Fox River area could approve the establishment of an agency responsible for preserving the waterway's natural beauty and providing better recreational opportunities under legislation sponsored by State Reps. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake) and Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa).

Both Senate Bill 1199 and House Bill 1778, which call for the establishment of the Waterway Management Agency, have won approval from the chambers in which they originated and are now under consideration in the other chamber.

"We are fortunate to have a beautiful, natural area for recreational purposes," Klemm said.

"We should all be able to enjoy the area, but we also have a responsibility to take care of it. The Chain O' Lakes - Fox River Waterway Management Agency that we are proposing would do both things -- help develop better recreational services, while preserving and maintaining the area's natural beauty," he said.

A board of six members and a chairman would control the Waterway Management Agency, which could charge user fees for recreational and commercial use of the waterway.

The agency could apply for and accept the state, local and federal funds. An advisory panel of the public officials and public members would also be formed. These members would have to reside in the waterway area.

"We want to take best advantage of the area's natural recreational possibilities," Churchill said, "and we want the people in the area to have the maximum input into the area's development and use. There are so many governments affected by the waterway that the most efficient way of preserving the area is through the efforts of one agency."

Waterway user fees would be used mainly for improving the waterway, but 25 percent of the fees could be used for personnel salaries and other costs.

Rainbows will arch over Antioch Library

Reading Rainbows a reading club for school age children is a summer program at the Antioch Township Library. They will report on books read on designated days. Each book read will place the child one step closer on his "rainbow chart" to reaching the pot of gold and prizes awaiting him at the end.

There will be a beginning party complete with games, refreshments, and entertainment. There will be an ending party at which prizes will be awarded.

Read To Me Reading Rainbows is a reading club simulating the one described above. The difference being the read to me club is for pre-school children. They report on books read to them by their mothers.

Movie Days will provide full length feature films for family entertainment. They will be shown free of charge for the enjoyment of the general public.

Special Days provide different workshops. They are two hour sessions in which children learn some of the fundamentals involving puppets, dramatics or aerobics.

Reading Rainbows will begin on June 27. All those interested in participating in the summer reading program should be at the library Monday for the kickoff party Monday, June 27, at 1 p.m.

Motor club recommends pre-vacation car check

Pre-vacation car maintenance should begin two to three weeks before your departure date, according to the AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

"If you wait until the last minute, necessary repairs could delay your departure or cause possible inconvenience on the road," says Bob Watrobka, senior service specialist for AAA-CMC's Approved Auto Repair program. "An early start on vehicle maintenance also gives you a better chance to include repair costs in your vacation budget."

Begin with an owner's manual and go back on the recommended maintenance schedule if you haven't been following it. This could be the time for an oil and filter change, new spark plugs and a lube job. You also should consider a tune-up or a check to see whether the engine is operating at peak efficiency.

After consulting the owner's manual for any special directions, follow this AA-CMC checklist:

—Levels of engine oil, transmission fluid, power brake fluid.

—Level and potency of radiator coolant. If low, fill with 50-50 solution of antifreeze and water. Antifreeze is just as important in summer as in winter.

—Condition of belts, hoses and clamps.

—Tread depth and pressure of all tires, including spare. Cold pressure should be at the level recommended in the owner's manual.
